REPORT ON IGNITE'26

I. About the Student Guidance Cell

The Student Guidance Cell (SGC) was established in 2010 by Mr. Tanveer Ahmed and Mr. Mohammed Imran with the vision, "Of the Students, By the Students, For the Students," and the motto, "Zeal and Zest to Be."

What began as a student initiative has grown into a platform where students from all departments come together to develop leadership, communication, teamwork, and real-world skills beyond the classroom.

The SGC follows the principle that students are not merely participants but also organizers, coordinators, and leaders. Seniors guide juniors, while juniors inspire seniors in turn. The Cell believes that technical knowledge alone is not sufficient for success; leadership, communication, teamwork, resilience, adaptability, and the courage to take responsibility are equally important. These qualities are developed through practical experience and active participation.

Through workshops, symposiums, technical sessions, and leadership opportunities, the SGC provides students with a platform to learn, collaborate, and grow.

II. Objectives

The objectives of the Student Guidance Cell are:

To provide first-year students with a welcoming and memorable beginning to their college journey.

To encourage active participation and enthusiasm through engaging activities and events.

To develop teamwork, communication skills, and confidence among students.

To provide opportunities for students to showcase their talents, creativity, and skills beyond academics.

To foster a sense of belonging, connection, and interaction within the college community.

III. About the Chief Guest

Mr. Ebinezer Paul is an Electrical Engineering graduate with around eight years of professional experience in the field of Financial Crime and Compliance. He has extensive experience supporting the UAE region and is currently associated with Standard Chartered Bank as a Specialist–Assistant Manager in Financial Crime Surveillance and Transaction Monitoring.

Beyond his professional career, Mr. Ebinezer Paul has demonstrated a strong commitment to social service and educational empowerment. He has been associated with U&I Trust since 2017, contributing as a volunteer towards creating better educational opportunities for children.

He currently serves as a Chapter Head, guiding multiple learning centres and volunteers while working towards empowering young minds through education. His journey reflects the importance of combining professional excellence, leadership, social responsibility, and service to society.

The programme was designed as an important orientation initiative for newly admitted students, providing them with an opportunity to understand the importance of maintaining a healthy lifestyle, making responsible choices and developing a positive attitude towards their academic and personal growth. The event also emphasised the role of students in contributing to a safe, healthy and drug-free society.

At 11.05 a.m., the Vice-Principal addressed the gathering, motivating the students to make positive choices and remain focused on their educational goals. The students were encouraged to utilise their college life constructively and develop values that would contribute to their future success.

The Chief Guest's Address commenced at 11.15 a.m. The session focused particularly on the theme "Empowering Youth for a Drug-Free Future." The students were sensitised to the physical, psychological, social and academic consequences associated with substance abuse. The address encouraged students to understand the importance of self-discipline, peer awareness, healthy relationships and seeking appropriate support whenever necessary.

The awareness session served as an important platform for first-year students to reflect upon the challenges faced by young people and the significance of making informed and responsible decisions. The programme also reinforced the message that students can play an active role in promoting a drug-free campus and society.

The programme proceeded with the Vote of Thanks at 12.15 p.m., expressing sincere gratitude to the management, Principal, Vice-Principal, Chief Guest, faculty members, organisers and students for their valuable participation and support.

The programme concluded with the National Anthem at 12.20 p.m., bringing the event to a formal and dignified conclusion.

Objectives of the Programme

- To create awareness among first-year students about the harmful consequences of drug and substance abuse.
- To promote the importance of a healthy and disciplined lifestyle among young people.
- To encourage students to make responsible and informed decisions.
- To sensitise students to the physical, psychological, social and academic impact of substance abuse.
- To encourage students to resist negative peer influence and unhealthy habits.
- To strengthen awareness about the role of students in creating a drug-free educational environment.
- To motivate students towards positive academic, personal and social development.
- To promote the vision of a healthy youth and a bright future.

Outcome of the Programme

The programme successfully created awareness among the first-year students regarding the importance of staying away from drugs and other harmful substances. The students gained a better understanding of the consequences of substance abuse and the importance of maintaining healthy habits and positive relationships.

The programme also helped the students understand that their choices during their college years can significantly influence their academic performance, personal development and future career. The awareness initiative encouraged students to become responsible members of the college community and active contributors towards building a drug-free society.

Conclusion

The Induction Programme organised by the Anti-Drug Club served as a meaningful initiative to welcome first-year students while simultaneously addressing an important social and youth-related concern. The theme “Empowering Youth for a Drug-Free Future” effectively conveyed the message that awareness, self-discipline, responsible decision-making and positive engagement are essential for building a healthy and successful future.

The programme concluded on a positive note, leaving the students with an important message: a drug-free life is a healthier, safer and more productive path towards personal and professional success.

The event was conducted successfully with the active cooperation and support of the college management, administration, faculty members, Anti-Drug Club and students.

PROFILE

Dr. V. Anu Rangjani is an Emotional Empowerment Coach, educator, researcher and the Founder of Ameyadaya. With nearly 17 years of experience in teaching, research and student development, Dr. Anu has spent a significant part of her professional journey working closely with young minds and exploring the factors that influence how individuals learn, grow and navigate life.

She holds a Ph.D. in Tourism, is UGC-NET qualified, and has an MBA in Human Resources, along with research guideship experience. She had also worked with a couple of training organisations, delivering soft skills and career skills sessions to students across institutions. Later, as an Independent trainer, she has conducted placement training workshops and provided personalised one-to-one feedback to students.

Beyond her professional life, she has a deep interest in spirituality and understanding the human mind and emotions. Over the years, her own life experiences and personal challenges also encouraged her to look inward and this shaped her understanding of the connection between our inner self and the outer world.

This made her believe that career and personal growth and healthy relationship happen when an individual is emotionally empowered. Eventually, that led her towards Emotional Empowerment Coaching and the founding of Ameyadaya.

Today, she works with individuals and institutions to create greater awareness around emotions, self-understanding, relationships, communication and personal growth. Her current focus is on men's emotional well-being through her initiative, The Inside Man – Understanding Men, Strengthening Relationship, while her larger vision encompasses emotional empowerment for men, women and students.

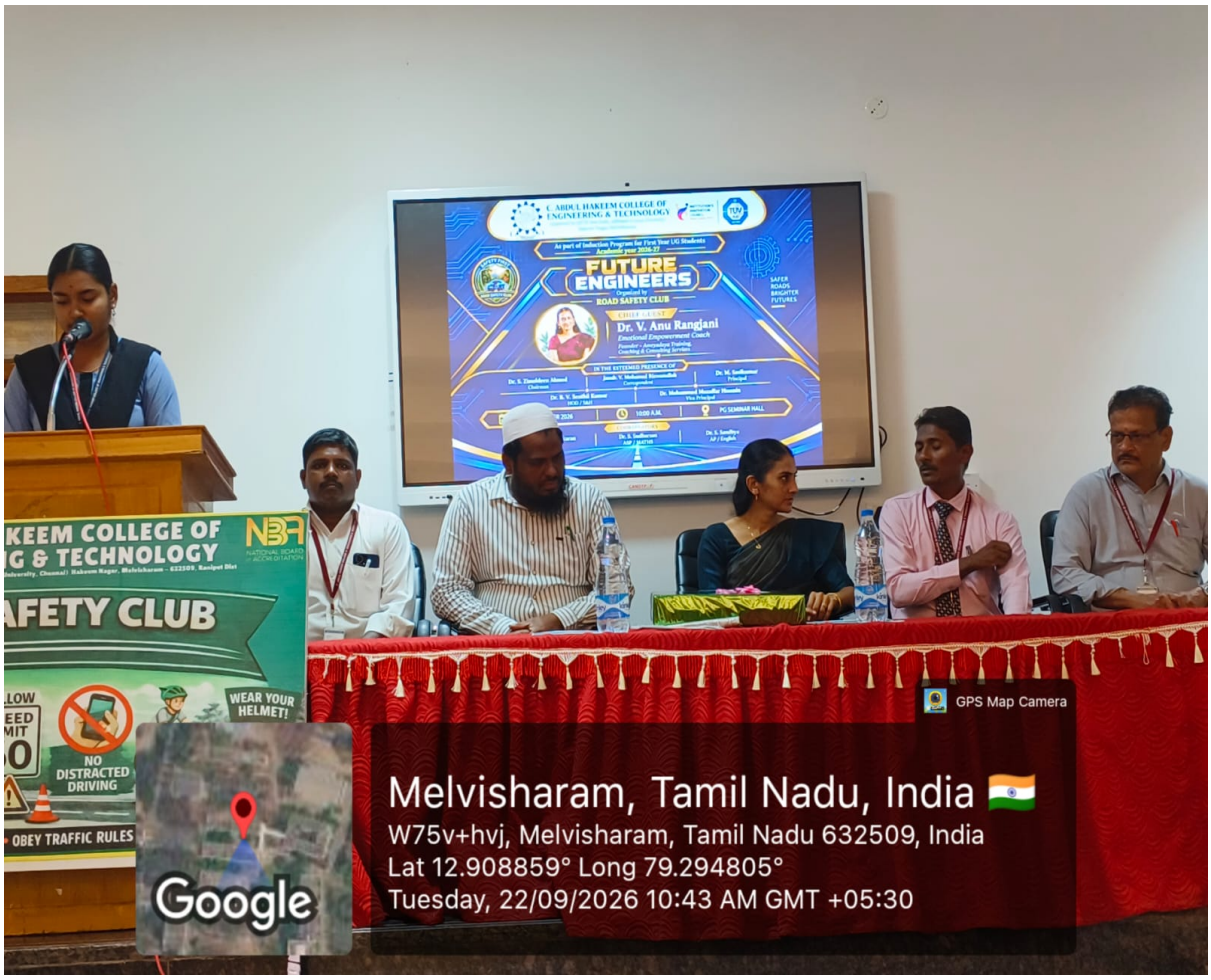

Ameyadaya's Positioning Statement
Understand Your Emotions. Transform your Life.
When you understand your emotions, clarity follows helping you to make better life decisions both in personal life as well as career.
